A CHAPTER OF EPSILON IOTA - B

Kettering UNIVERSITY

WHY JOIN THE DTD BROTHERHOOD?

“Committed to Lives of Excellence” isn’t just a slogan for Delta Tau Delta; it’s a way of life. Our fraternity provides a values-based experience surrounding the principals of truth, courage, faith and power. The men of Delta Tau Delta are taught how to live these principals in their daily lives.

We believe that strengthening the community is essential to our vitality. As a result, we host and participate in philanthropic events, such as: collecting donations at Cedar Point one weekend each year; braving Polar Bear Plunges in the winter; and supporting local Relay for Life efforts, among others.

Despite being so involved on campus, we manage to maintain a house GPA higher than other fraternity averages. In our free time, we enjoy playing soccer on the beach, volleyball, and other lawn games at our house (especially Can Jam). Working on cars and playing music are other favorite pastimes, too!

INVOLVEMENT

Our local chapter raises over $6,000 annually for Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), which is Delta Tau Delta’s national philanthropy partner. Nationally, within the past 5 years, chapter Epsilon Iota-B won our 9th Hugh Shields Award, which recognizes us as a top ten chapter among the 133 chapters of Delta Tau Delta across the globe.

We are also involved in these campus clubs:

- Pre-med club
- Physics club
- Target club
- Firebirds club
- APO
- Order of Omega

ARE YOU READY FOR EXCELLENCE?

In order to join DTD, a potential new member (PNM) must participate in rush week, where they will learn about the values of the fraternity and meet the existing group of brothers.

Please understand that:

- If you have family members who are already part of the fraternity, you are considered a “legacy” PNM, and will be given special consideration.
- Once rush week has ended, you will receive a formal bid to join the fraternity if the brothers believe you are a good fit.
- After receiving a bid and accepting it, congratulations! You are now on your way to continued personal and relational growth within the Delta Tau Delta community for a lifetime.
